

AUDIO BOOK SECTION

Purash Kanpur Haridas Nandi Mahavidyalaya prioritizes inclusivity for everyone. The college library offers a variety of Audio Books for readers who are unable to read due to vision impairment or physical disabilities affecting the hands or fingers.

Audio books provide students with disabilities equal opportunity to access information and learning. They also help to improve pronunciation and fluency while enhancing listening comprehension skills.

The Audio Book section contains a quality assortment of Bengali, English and Sanskrit literature. Rabindranath Thakur's Raktakarabi, Bibhutibhushan Bandyopadhyay's Pather Panchali, Saratchandra Chattopadhyay's Srikanta, Manik Bandyopadhyay's Padmanadir Majhi, Abu Ishaque's Suryadighal Bari, Arthur Conan Doyle's Complete Collection of Sherlock Holmes, Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland, George Orwell's Animal Farm, Emily Bronte's Wuthering Heights, Bhagabad Gita and Upanishad are few among them.

The library is equipped with a comprehensive system for individuals with print disabilities to listen to audio books on a computer using headphones.
