Dear All,

The pandemic crisis has engaged the whole teaching-learning community across the globe with newer challenges in pedagogic dissemination. With the traditional modes of classroom teaching-learning being infeasible to prevent spread of coronavirus, PURASH-KANPUR HARIDAS NANDI MAHAVIDYALAYA has kept the academic vibrancy well and truly alive through online teaching and assessment, Learning Management System and extra-curricular engagement for the students and teachers. As an extension for the same, the department of English, under the aegis of the INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (IQAC) with the endorsement of the Academic Council, is organizing CEREBRATIONS, the online lecture series where the teachers and academics of different institutions of eminence across the country, would deliver lectures on topics that would have the undergraduate students as the target audience. The web platforms and links would be shared in posters for individual talks.

The department, the IQAC, the Academic Council of the College and the institution at large extend earnest request to all the students and teachers of your esteemed institution to join the series and make it a success.
